

ABSTRACT

A door or window comprising a frame (1) for supporting at least one glass panel (2) and, applied to one face of said panel, a layer (3) for filtering the 5 light radiations. Along said frame, in a position corresponding to the periphery of said panel, there extends a seating (5) in which there is accommodated a tubular light source (6) or a light source distributed along the seating.

10

(Fig. 1)